We recommend these tours to people who have already visited Prague, who are acquainted with its main sights.

As part of the tours we will visit less frequented monuments, including those that are not usually open to the public.

Just like the introductory tours it is also possible to join these tours into all-day tours or combine them with other tours.

As the tours are exclusive and demanding it is necessary to make a binding reservation. If a tour of an individual is booked, the reservation is binding.
